

Herat Open source community: Goals and policies

Outline: 4th presentation Monira Salehyar 20548

A. Abstract

B. Introduction

C. Goals

- a. What is a goal
- b. The goals of a community
 - i. Why a community should have goals?
- c. What goals can be best for an open source community?
- d. Standard open source community's goals

D. Herat University's Open source community's (HUOC) Goals

- a. Short term goals
 - i. attracting members
 - ii. Customizing simple software
 - iii. nationalization
- b. Long term goals
 - i. Contacting other open source communities
 - ii. Working on external projects
 - iii. Software development
 - iv. Creating a learning environment
 - v. Promoting open source software
 - vi. Globalization

- c. Prioritizing goals
 - i. Important goals
 - ii. Sub-goals

E. Policies

- a. What is a policy?
- b. Best policies for open source communities
- c. Impact of policies on a community
- d. Standard open source community's policies

F. Herat University's Open source community's (HUOC) policies

- a. Policies applied to members
 - i. How to promote members?
 - ii. How to downgrade members?
- b. Policies applied to projects
 - i. Right people for the right job
 - ii. Delivering projects on time
 - iii. Choosing appropriate projects based on needs and skills
- c. Discipline policies
 - i. Attendance policy
 - ii. Meeting policy
 - iii. Mutual respect

G. motivation behind these goals and policies

H. Conclusion